RELIGIOUS.

Protestant Episcopal Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, October 17, 1868.

In the Protestant Episcopal Convention to-day S. B. Ruggles, of New York, offered a resolution proposing to amend the second article of the Constitution by reducing the number of Diocesan Representatives to General Conventions to three instead of four delegates. He also advocated adding a clause providing that when more than fifty Dioceses are represented in the General Convention, the representation of each shall be reduced to two delegates. This motion, he added, was made to meet the anticipated increase of new Dioceses under the last proposed canon. It was laid on the table.

Rev. Hedge, New Jersey, offered a resolution to amend canon 11, title 1, by adding the following section;

3. No minister of the Church settled over any parish or congregation, or in temporary charge thereof, shall invite or permit any person having had Episcopal ordination, to officiate with him or in his place on any occasion of worship in the Church or congregation over which he is so settled or in charge.

Section 4. No minister shall invite or permit to officiate as aforesaid any minister ordained by a Bishop and not in communion with this Church, unless such person shall have been received as a minister of this Church under canon 9 and title 1.

Referred to Committee on Canon.

Ambrose Todd, of Kansas, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That it be referred to the Committee on the Prayer Book, the expediency of erasing from the communion by a Bishop to a presbyter, following the prayer in the service for the ordaining of presbyters, the words "whose sins thou dost forgive, they are forgiven, and whose sins thou dost retain, they are retained."

This resolution awoke a wide discussion, and was finally laid on the table by a heavy vote.

Rev. Wm. Adams, of Wisconsin, offered a resolution asking the Committee on Canons to present for the interpretation of the House of Bishops the phrase, "Presiding Bishops of their Church," as it occurs in canon nine, section third, title two, and to report to the next Convention their decision on the precise meaning.

A motion to lay on the table was lost.

Mr. Hamilton Fisk, of New York, offered a ssbstitute as follows:

Resolved, That the Committee on Canons be directed to enquire as to the expediency of striking out the words "of this church" after the words "presiding Bishop."

The substitute was adopted.

Rev. B. H. Paddock, of Michigan, was granted a few days absence to visit his sick family.

Rev. A. N. Littlejohn, of New York, offerred a resolution to amend Article Three of the Constitution of the Board of Missions, by substituting the words "at least equal in number to four times the number of the Diocese," in the place of the words "four in number from each Diocese." Adopted.

The Chair announced the following special Committee on Provincial System: Rev. Dr. James Mulcanahey, Massachusetts, Rev. James P. Dusten, of Michigan, Rev. Dr. Charles B. Dane, Mississippi, S. H. Treat, Illinois, H. A. Schroder, Alabama.

The special order for to-day for the amendment of Canon twelve was postponed, and the resolution reported yesterday from the Committee on Canons, and signed by Rev. Dr. Mead, was taken up and debated at length.

A substitute, offered by M. R. Welsh, was rejected, when the following amendment to the report was accepted by the Committee: By adding to the second clause of the said article the following words: "And such consent shall not be given by the General Convention until it receives satisfactory assurance of a suitable provision for the support of the Episcopate in the contemplated new Diocese."

The debate continued up to three o'clock, when a vote was reached on a motion to strike out the foregoing, and the motion was lost as follows: Clerical votes Dioceses, ayes 28; noes 4; divided 5; lay votes Dioceses, ayes 33; noes 3. Adjourned.

The Protestant Episcopal Board of Missions held a session last evening. Rev. Dr. Hill, a veteran missionary from Athens, read a report on the Greek mission, urging a large contriouution to the cause. Bishop Whipple, of Minnesota, read a report on the moral and temporal condition of the Indians, which advises the nation to change its policy, to fulfill its agreement with the Indians and treat them with kindness. The reports were ordered to be printed. Adjourned.

The features of the Protestant Episcopal Convention, to-day, was the reference to a Committee of the proposals to amend the canon forbidding clergymen of other denominations to officiate in Episcopal Churches. A determined attempt was was made by the low church members to table the resolution, but it failed. This action is important, as it foreshadows the defeat of the Tyng party.

Steamboat Seized and Arms Thrown Overboard.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MEMPHIS, October 13.—The little steamer Hesper which left here at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, with four thousand stand of arms, which it is alleged were destined for negroes in Arkansas, returned to this port to-day. Her officers state that while wooding, some twenty-five miles below here on the Mississippi side, the steam tug Nettie Jones bore in sight with a barge in tow containing about forty men in disguise who took possession of the Hesper, placing guards over the pilot and engineer. They then cut the boat loose and steamed up the river. The boxes containing the arms and ammunition were broke open and the guns thrown into the river. After thus disposing of the aams, the party re-embarked on the tug, started back up the river, and in attempting to go through a chute she grounded. The party then went ashore, and took to the woods. It is said the party seized the tug below Fort Pickering soon after the Hesper had left this port. The affair causes quite an excitement here.

Politics in Georgia.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ATLANTA, October 17.—The Democratic Executive Committee of Georgia to-day publish a preamble and resolutions declaring unequivocally false the representations made by Republican speakers in the present canvas that the Southern people are in favor of the re-establishment of slavery, referring to the ratification of the amendment to the Constitution forever abolishing slavery and involuntary servitude, except for crime, endorsing the address of Robert R. E. Lee and others, in response to the letter from Gen. Rosecrans, and that they acquiesced in the present status of the colored race among them, and will protect them to the full extent of their power in the right of suffrage secured to them by the Constitution of the United States and Constitution and laws of the State.

The Republicans fired a salute and held a meeting last night in honor of the Republican victories in Pennsylvania and Ohio.

The Gaudeois predicts that the European powers will soon recognize the Provisional Junta as the de facto government of Spain.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, October 16.—The London Times of to-day, in an article on the Chinese Mission, thinks that the fact that Mr. Burlingame is not a native of China, will be no obstacle to his success at the courts to which he is accredited. They will forget it, if he does, if he abstains from interference with political intrigues in which China can have no healthy interest. If he acts as though there could be n separate national interests in Europe and America, as indeed there are not, so far as their relations with China are concerned, and if he accepts it as primary functions of his mission to discover and explain what are the best lines of trade both for China and the Western countries, he will have accomplished much for China and something for the rest of the world. No State can have so personal an interest in a success of this sort as Great Britain, and none could be more willing to contribute to it.

LONDON, October 16.—It is understood that the basis agreed to by Mr. Johnson and Lord Stanley for the settlement of the Alabama question is, that a mixed Commission shall be formed, which will hold its sessions in London and pass on all claims preferred by English and American citizens.

Withdrawal of Democratic Presidential Candidates Recommended.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 16.—This evening's Picayune has a leader similar in tenor to that of the New Orleans Times, telegraphed this morning. The Picayune suggests the name of Hancock and Hendricks, or Hancock and Adams, for Presidential candidates.

Up to the 14th two thousand eight hundred persons were registered in this city.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct 16.—The Times to-day has an article deprecating the withdrawal of either Blair or Seymour, but if it is considered necessary, the Times suggests the propriety of leaving to these gentlemen the selection of their successors.

ALBANY, N. Y., October 16.—The Albany Argus rejects and condemns the suggestions of the National Intelligencer and New York World as to a change of front by the Democracy, and insists upon pursuing the campaign to the end under the candidates and platform of the July Convention.

The Commercial says: It is reported today that Mr. Seymour has sent a letter of declination to August Belmont.

The Democrat says Gov. Seymour has written a letter placing himself in the hands of the National Executive Committee.

A SPEECH BY BLAIR.

He is Willing to Acquiesce to the Will of His Party and Withdraw from the Contest—He is Evidently Disheartened Over the Election News, but Whistles to Keep up Courage.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, October 16.—General Frank P. Blair was serenaded to-night at his residence on Washington Avenue, by several Democratic Clubs with torches, banners, and music. There was present a large crowd of citizens who filled the street. After referring to local matters at some length, the General spoke as follows:—"I am the candidate of the Democratic party for the very distinguished position of Vice President. I expect to be a candidate so long as they desire it, and so long as I can be of some avail to help the great cause which we all have at heart. But, my fellow citizens, it will be no sacrifice to me, or rather, it will be a work of pleasure to me to surrender that position, whenever by so doing I can add one vote to the strength of the Democracy in this State or any other of the States. I am not a candidate for the purpose of embarrassing or frustrating and defeating the the principles which have my cordial support, and when I cease to be of use in one capacity, I am ready to try it in another, and as I call on you, here to-night, for the great cause which we all have at heart not to hesitate to make any sacrifice demanded to gain for us the victory, so am I ready to make any sacrifice, so am I ready to go on and do anything, to take upon my shoulders any burden or lay down any that may have been conferred on me heretofore. And this brings me to allude to that rumor in our midst today. (voice, "that's what we want.") It has been said here that both the candidates for the President and Vice President have signified an intention to decline in favor of some other candidates. All I have to say is that both of the candidates have always, from the moment they were nominated to this moment, and will always be ready to lay down their candidacy when it can no longer be of service to the Democratic party of the country. (Cheers.) If it should be thought now, if it should be believed by so doing we could add to the strength of the Democratic party, and give it a better chance of victory, you will find you are not mistaken either in your candidate for President or Vice President, for they will justify in your eyes the great honor and distinction which you conferred on them by showing that they are not unworthy and are not insensible of honor. (a voice "we want no Chase," other voices, "no, no.") That is for you say. (Voices, "Well," and cries "Hurrah for Blair.") I do not desire, my fellow-citizens, an expression from you tonight on that subject. I want you to review it calmly and without regard to the feelings of any man, because the feelings of individuals are nothing as compared with the great objects we all have in view, that of success and the restoration of our country. I do not intend to abandon the field in one sense, at least I mean to bear my share of the battle, whether in the ranks or as an officer. I will depend on the wishes of the Democratic party.

Gen. Blair then thanked the crowd for their attention and bade them good night. In the opening part of his speech, the General announced that he was neither dismayed, terrified nor discouraged at the result of the recent elections, which was received with cheers.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

How they Did Things in Fayette County.

The opposition in Fayette county resorted to the most despicable ruses to deter loyal voters from exercising their rights as citizens at the polls. At Bloomington, Fayette county, there are four Republican voters. They were all warned of danger, by anonymous letters tacked to their doors on the night before the election, if they made their appearance at the polls to vote. As a specimen of the letters we publish the following, addressed to Mr. Z. Wilson, a very respectable citizen. The reference to the Temple case is far-fetched as that man was robbed in this city at the Democratic Convention, while Dr. W. was home away up the river. But here is the letter of warning:

Mr. Willson with the pen I propose To inform you of your danger of being arrested if you come to the election on, to morrow & if you stay away you will not. All eyes are turned towards you & vengeance is threatened as regards to the temple case on where are you have been blaimed for Theft. The law being acquainted with your case. Your words vousen will most invariably give you trouble now on your wife's sake we propose to say nothing more a bout the question. This cribbing looks rough if you dont do what it says you will be yoused as rough as the law can yous your case. Now take warning from a friend & dont listen to your Radical Friends for they deceive you and after the election you wont be good enough to speak to them.

By order of Fayette County
Please obey.

(Skull and crossbones.)

The letters furnished the other Republicans were of like character. The above was evidently written by a more intelligent Democrat than the orthography or writing of the letter might indicate. We need hardly say the Republicans all cast their votes in spite of the danger threatened.

The Mud-Larks Again—Outrageous Assault.

The irrepressible mud-larks have commenced operations again. On Thursday evening about seven o'clock, while three young men connected with the Western Union Telegraph office were coming down Wylie street they were attacked near the corner of High by four of the fraternity. Notwithstanding the advantage of being armed with cluts, the assailants were getting badly demoralized, when they were re-inforced by another detachment of twelve. Of course it was impossible to contend against such large odds and the assailed parties were compelled to retire, not, however, before they had been pretty badly handled. One of them received a severe gash on the left side of his face, made with a knife in the hands of his antagonist. Another was hit with a club in the face and on the knee, which will probably disable him for a time. The remaining one of the party was also dealt a terrible blow in the side with a club, which for the time rendered him almost senseless. And, indeed, it is a great wonder now any of the party escaped with their lives from the hands of the fiends. At the time of the attack the young men were walking peaceably along, not suspecting anything of the kind until they were so suddenly set upon. No cause can be assigned for the action of the mud-larks, aside from the malicious spirit with which they seem to be possessed, and which is never more satisfied that when rexeling in scenes of riot and bloodshed. The attack, made so early in the evening and at such a public place, is one of the most outrageous we have ever chronicled in the annals of rowdyism.

The Connellsville Railroad.

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad was held in Baltimore a few days since, and President Garrett referred to the prospects of the Connellsville Railroad Company. He stated that he had been advised by President Hughart and the Chief Engineer (B. H. Latrobe, Esq.,) of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad Company, that the competition for the work recently advertised for proposals had been very active, one hundred and seventy-three bids having been received. Awards have been recommended and confirmed of contracts to parties, who are reliable represented to be able, experienced and effective, for thirty-eight sections of the road between Connellsville and Cumberland, which embrace all the heavy work on the line. The work awarded is estimated at the prices bid, to amount to $1,393,905.

The contracts for the work on the road have been made for $253,901 less than was allowed in the original estimates. This reduction in the cost enables the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Company to decide to arch the tunnels upon its line permanently as those works are constructed. As the line is singularly free from water courses, and those which are crossed are of limited width, it has been determined that all the bridges shall be constructed upon durable masonry and of iron, so that the whole work will be of first-class character. The contracts require the heaviest work to be completed within two years, and the work on sections of a lighter character will be contracted for in such time as to insure the completion of the whole line within that period.

A Carpet-Bagger in the Wrong Place.

Joseph Mint, a carpet-bagger, got into the wrong place on Thursday evening. He had just arrived in the city, and while passing up Fifth avenue, carpet-bag in hand, the dulcet strains from the "decrepit hand-organ" in the Old Drury attracted his attention and led him within its ancient portals. The unterrified were receiving the election returns, and Joseph, unfortunate man, become so demoralized at the result as to somewhat relax his grasp on the article which he carried, when presto, change! it was gone. He saw it no more. It contained two pairs of pants, two pair of boots, two vests and a set of watchmaker's tools, all of which he will doubtless never behold again. After the first burst of grief was over Joseph acknowledged the justice of his punishment, as he had always been taught to avoid dangerous places.

Opera House.

Last evening the Opera House was crowded in every part on the occasion of the benefit of that prince of comic actors, Mr. John E. Owens. Every seat was full, and all available standing room was occupied. The audience was largely composed of ladies, and was fashionable and appreciative to a degree. The bill last evening was an exceedingly rich one, consisting of the "Victims" and "Solon Shingle," in both of which Mr. Owens appeared to splendid advantage. As Joshua Butterby, in the "Victims," he presented himself in a line so different from those in which he had previously been seen, that it could hardly be realized that he was the same actor. As "Solon Shingle" of course he was unapproachable. This afternoon there will be an Owens' matinee, and this evening a splendid bill will be presented.

The National Local Preachers' Association.

The National Local Preachers' Association of the Methodist Episcopal Church will commence its eleventh annual session this afternoon. Quite a number of delegates have already arrived, and the attendance promises to be as large as at any preceding session. The programme for today embraces the organization at three o'clock P. M., in Christ Church, Penn street. Preparation for the business to be brought up will then be made, and also arrangements for the special religious services to-morrow. Dr. Nesbitt, of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, will deliver the address of welcome in the evening.

It is expected that most of the Methodist Episcopal pulpits will be occupied to-morrow by the delegates, some whom are among the leading men of the nation.

The Sunday services will be unusually interesting, especially in the afternoon, when the annual Love Feast is held. Our Methodist friends and others will doubtless crowd the spacious house to its utmost capacity, as it is open to every one who may desire to attend. In the evening short addresses will be delivered by delegates from different parts of the country. The following churches will be supplied with delegates at the morning hour; Liberty street—Rev. John Field, of Philadelphia; Smithfield street—Rev. Edward Hefner, of Baltimore; Christ church—Rev. L. P. Frost, of Waltham, Mass.; Ames church—Rev. W. J. P. Ingraham, of Philadelphia; North Avenue, (Allegheny)—Rev. French S. Evans, of Baltimore; Beaver street, Allegheny—Rev. John Cottier, of New York; South Common, Allegheny—Rev. James Riddle, of Wilmington, Del. The Committee will meet this morning at Christ church at nine o'clock to receive applications to fill pulpits for Sabbath.

Missing Man Found Drowned.

Some men employed on the steamer Bayard discovered, on Thursday evening, the body of a drowned man floating in the river near the head of Brunot's Island. The corpse was secured and taken ashore. It had evidently been in the water a considerable time, as decomposition had commenced. The body was that of a man about six feet high, with hair and beard of a sandy color, slightly mixed with gray. He wore a dark blue sack coat, black pants, black ribbed vest, heavy coarse boots, gray ribbed undershirt, twilled muslin drawers, and white shirt. Deceased had the appearance of being about forty-five or fifty years of age. A small sum of money and a variety of small articles were found in his pockets. Coroner Clawson held an inquest, and a verdict of "found drowned" was rendered. Yesterday afternoon, after the inquest, the body was fully identified as that of John Burns, of Pine street, who has been missing since the night of the Democratic torchlight procession.

Professional.

On Thursday afternoon officer A. J. Moon arrested a man named A. P. Thompson, who is suspected of being a professional thief. Thompson had been in the "Novelty," Fifth avenue, during the day, and at the time of his arrest was in a saloon on the same avenue. About two months since the Chief of Police arrested Thompson on a similar charge, but he was released on promising to leave the city. Officer Moon recollected the occurrence, and as soon as he learned of Thompson's appearance in the city arrested him. The prisoner stated that he arrived in the city on Thursday, and staid here to receive letters from his wife before proceeding eastward to consult a physician. Yesterday morning he was before the Mayor and was dismissed on promise of taking the first train out of the city, a promise that he kept.

Mortuary Report.

Dr. A. G. McCandless, Physician to the Board of Health, reports the following interments in the city of Pittsburgh for the week commencing October 4th and ending October 11th, 1868:

Males, six; females, six; white, twelve; colored, none; total, twelve.

Diseases—The following were the diseases: Aleumonaia, consumption, lead colic, accident, apoplexy, congestion of brain, cyanosis, whooping cough, diptheria croup, debility, one each; dropsy, two.

Ages—Of the above there were: Under one year, 4; From one to two, 1; from twenty to thirty, 3; from thirty to forty, 2; from forty to fifty, 1; from sixty to seventy, 1.

New Well.

The Titusville Herald says: The well belonging to Fisher Bros., of Pittsburgh, and known as "Fisher No. 6," on the J. H. & H. B. Herbert tract, commenced pumping on Monday last, and during the first twenty-four hours is said to have produced one hundred and sixty barrels. It is located near the south east corner of the borough line, and in the immediate vicinity of the "Black flag" well. The surrounding territory, which includes the Buchanan farm, Anderson, Carroll & Hawes' tract, Bates, Anderson & Carroll farm, and the G. K. Anderson & Carroll tract, are brought right into the well defined belt by these recent strikes, and we may look for more active and extended operations than have yet been witnessed upon this and adjoining territory.

Noon Day Prayer Meeting.—The regular Saturday noon-day prayer meeting in the interest of the Sunday School cause, will be held as usual at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, No. 59 Fifth avenue. The cause is worthy the hearty support of every christian, and there should be a turn out to-day commensurate with its importance. Ladies are specially invited, as accommodations have been provided for them.

Improvement of Streets.—Wide alley, which for a considerable time past has been undergoing improvements, has been completed, and is now available. Liberty street is now open to travel as far as Twenty-sixth street. Street Commissioner McFadden is working hard preparing a wall along Cliff street to prevent a repetition of the heavy land slide that occurred on the hill side during the recent heavy rains.

Progressing.—The work of laying the foundations of the new Library Hall on Penn street is being rapidly pushed forward. The work will be completed during the present season, and the building will be allowed to settle until the opening of the next season, when the brick work will be commenced.

Beat Her.—Matilda Wiley made information yesterday before Alderman Taylor against Mary and Sarah Martin for assault and battery. Matilda alleges that the defendants attacked and beat her in an unmerciful manner, of course without provication. The parties reside in the Twelfth ward. A warrant was issued.

Held for Further Hearing.—A hearing was had yesterday in the case of Smith and Ford, the policemen who were charged with being common barroters. After considerable evidence had been taken, which was rather unfavorable to the accused, the hearing was postponed until Monday next at ten P. M.

HOME AGAIN!

Now that I see my home once more,
My heart is light and gay
With friendly greetings, many in store,
To meet me every day.

The novelty of changing scenes
May charm the roving eye;
While Pleasure's varying shapes have seemed
To check the heaving sigh.

This only seems to others so,
When they the smiling face behold;
The longing wish they cannot know,
The aching void all unconsoled.

Though careless Pleasure may often say,
To him who worships at her shrine:
"Enjoy thyself, and with me stay,"
He comforts ne'er compare with mine.

Happy the thought! Now, home at last!
Greeted by all familiar things!
Soon, like a baseless dream, the past
Will be no more worth remembering.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The annual meeting of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, Presbyterian, is an event of no ordinary occurrence, the influence of which results in great good to the community honored by its presence. Pretty full accounts were published by the telegraph from day to day, during its sessions, and, in view of this fact, we propose simply to group together some points of importance and interest. For sometime fears were felt that the treasury would be embarrassed with debt, but the people "had a mind to work," and nearly one hundred and fifty thousand dollars were contributed during the last month of the fiscal year. Instead of reporting a balance against the treasury, there was a surplus of about five hundred dollars. The grand total received for the year was $527,164. Not satisfied with this, it was determined to recommend the churches to raise six hundred thousand dollars, the coming year, and we believe it will be done. According to the report of the Secretaries the thirty churches of 1848, which the Board had then formed in Asia and Africa, have increased to one hundred and fifty-five; and their membership in a still larger ratio, from seven hundred and sixty-five to sixty-seven hundred and ninety-six. The number of stations and out stations is now six hundred and nine, while three hundred and thirty-two male and female missionaries from this country are now in the foreign field, and nine hundred and sixty-five native pastors and helpers are supplimenting their labors. The secession of the Dutch Reformed Church interest in the Board some years ago, and the expected retiracy of the New School Presbyterians from co-operation, will have the effect to diminish the area of the work, but the old organization we trust will develop a new strength and achieve even greater success in the future. Norwich, Connecticut, with a population of only fifteen thousand, entertained several thousand persons grandly. Public halls, steamboats and even railroad cars were bought into requisition, to accommodate persons with lodging and meals. We believe none of the meetings have been held West of the Alleghenies, and as Pittsburgh is to be favored with the next annual meeting, we look for princely hospitality on the part of the two cities and vicinity. Let us show ourselves worthy of the honor conferred upon us, for in blessing those who attend, we are blessing ourselves more richly, for it is more blessed to give than to receive.

Quite a number of the Baptist Associations in the East have had resolutions before them of a similar import to the one introduced by Dr. Lincoln at the Warren Baptist Association, favorable to close communion. It would seem from the Baptist papers that action favorable to close communion has invariably been adopted. The Warren Association deferred action until another meeting

In Richmond, Iowa, the Catholics have erected a new church edifice, but have determined that the Bishop shall not hold the the title to the property, and quite a commotion is the result.

The Advance, the new and ably edited Congregational paper, published at Chicago, is said to have expended about fifteen thousand dollars more than they have received during their first year just closed. Their circulation is now about fifteen thousand—very large indeed, and quite enough to make the paper secure of its existence.

It hardly seems possible that a young girl should accomplish so much by personal effort as the instance given by the Independent of a young German girl, of eighteen years, timid and retiring in her manners, who had lately joined a church in Chicago. It was suggested to her that she might do much good among her people, and the proposition was made to pay her the six dollars which she received for wages, which she accepted. She entered upon the missionary work, and was instrumental in bringing two hundred and twenty scholars in the Sunday School, and over three hundred persons into the Church, and many of them have been blessed with salvation.

From the reports of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, during the last four years, the aggregate appropriations amount to $3,547,881.05. The foreign work has cost $1,141,185.01, which is less than one-half of the sum expended on domestic missions, the foreign population of the United States, and other work immediately within the borders of the operations of the Church.

The following colloquy is reported among the "Varieties" of the National Baptist, of Philadelphia: Baptist Brother—I don't like your Church government. It isn't simple enough. There's too much machinery about it. Methodist Brother—It is true, we have more machinery than you; but then, you see, it don't take near so much water to run it.

The General Council of the Lutheran Church is to meet in Pittsburgh, November 10.

The National Christian Convention noticed, some days since, to be held at New York, Tuesday, November 17, by request of leading ministers and laymen in different parts of the country, will discuss a number of important questions bearing upon the general work of Evangelization, among which are the following:

1. How can the Christian activities of the entire membership of any particular church be best organized and developed? 2. Why do so many churches fail to reach the poor? 3. The right relation between the Churches and Voluntary Christian Associations. 4. How to make the week-day meetings of the Churches effective for spiritual purposes. 5. Woman's work in the Church. 6. How can the influence of Christian homes be increased? 7. By what means can the homes of the poor be improved? 8. Who should engage in lay preaching, and how? 9. How and by whom can open air services be held most profitably? 10. The organization and work of City Missions. 11. How can the people in rural districts be reached by Gospel influences? 12. What is the work of Young Men's Christian Associations? 13. How can a better observance of the Sabbath be secured? 14. How can the personal and social study of God's Word be made more general? 15? The best method of conducting Sabbath Schools? 16. How is an unconverted person to be approached? 17. By what means can we reach those who do not come to our Churches?

The American Presbyterian, of Philadelphia, announces the names of several well-know ministers as the Editorial Committee of that paper, among the number Rev. Herrick Johnson, formerly of this city, now pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia.

The Presbyterian says about one-fourth of all the clergy of the Episcopal Church in this country have come out of the Methodist Church, and some of them have become eminent and conservative Bishops.

A religious weekly represents that the First Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia has chosen and set apart five ladies to be Deaconesses in that church, the women in question, together with the whole congregation, standing while the pastor delivered to them a solemn charge.

"The Situation" in the Petroleum Trade.

The fantastic bull-fights of ancient Spain were not more worthy the smiling attention of astonished observers, nor more disastrous, we fear, to the ponderous beasts themselves, than the extensive floundering of certain Pittsburgh "Petroleum bulls" at the present moment. We have there the spectacle of a few dealers (albeit of undoubted means) endeavoring apparently to bully into better prices, and into sustained position, the oil markets of the whole world, in order to relieve themselves of large stocks of crude and refined Petroleum which they find themselves holding at the virtual close of the shipping season. The problem, of which they offer so bold a solution, seems to be whether, by buying still more largely at home, and maintaining the American market, they can also sustain foreign markets (without reference to supply or demand), and inspire our own exporters and speculative dealers with sufficient confidence to cause them to come forward and relieve them of the large stocks of oil with which they are burdened. For the result of this movement we fear the worst. We all remember the ruinous results of the protracted buying of Cozzens, of New York, in a movement which seems to us very similar to this, except that in this case his very large resources are probably surpassed. Of all articles of American trade the very worst to sustain in price, in absence of actual legitimate demand, is Petroleum. Other articles—gold, wheat, flour, pork—can be "carried" without such disheartening expenses. There is leakage, risk from change of color, exorbitant insurance, and other serious expenses almost wholly peculiar to Petroleum. And whoever sustains this market, in absence of legitimate demand, must virtually pay all these heavy expenses on the whole stock of refined oil in our warehouses. Whatever portion of this great loss he does not pay upon oil actually held by himself in warehouse, he must pay in the additional price for options on delayed deliveries. While it is true in general of any trade that "a sustained market is one to sell in," this is peculiarly true, we think, of Petroleum. For the bull interest, however strong, will not choose to stagger long under the fearful cost of carrying our enlarging stocks—a burden, in fact, which, if demand is long delayed, no private wealth can withstand.

To sustain these prices, all the oil delivered from time to time on the contracts held by these parties must be by them held in warehouse, off of the market, or shipped. Holding oil in warehouse has been every year accompanied with such great loss, that we think that course will not be long followed by any one. It is whispered, however, that these Pittsburgh operators have preferred to ship their oil to Europe. This seems to us to be only changing their precious load from one end of the sinking ship to the other. For let it be remembered that whatever may be done, the price of oil will ultimately be just what consumption will pay for it. Now, let us glance at this question of consumption—supply and demand. We have already exported this year 66 per cent. more oil than to this date last year, and it is beyond question, that with two-thirds our refining capacity, we can not only keep that per cent. good to the close of the year, but could, if Europe demanded, increase the same to 85 or 90 per cent. Now can it be shown that Europe will use 85 to 90 per cent. more oil than last year? Is it safe to operate in the belief that foreign consumption will be 66 per cent. more than last year? Indeed is it absolutely certain that it will reach 50 or even 40 per cent. more than in 1867? Judging from the best information we could, after special effort, secure, from the letters of the latest foreign mails, and especially from the remarkable indisposition to ship on the part of exporters, we believe there is a growing conviction throughout the trade that the increase of consumption has been largely over-estimated. Should this prove in the least degree true, we tremble for the result. Should it appear that the foreign consumption is 66 per cent. greater for this year than last, and NO MORE than that, we must still look for a disastrous close to the season; for in that case Europe would close this year with as large a stock as last year—a stock that was then large enough to put our markets down 50 per cent below the present figures, and hold them thereabouts for six months. In shipping their oil to Europe, therefore, we can see nothing but loss, and we regret the dilemma was ever forced upon them to carry their oil to warehouse, or export the same—a dilemma either horn of which was unfortunate enough.

We have been favored with a written statement of the views by which these gentlemen hope to build up the trade in present prices. This document bears date "Philadelphia, October 5, 1868," and opens with the following statement: "We hold that the oil in warehouse in Northern Europe is 20,000 barrels less than last year at the 1st of October."

If it shall be established that the stocks in Europe are as large as last year, within the insignificant amount of 20,000 barrels, the speculative buyer may well stand from under, for the weight of the large stocks last year depressed our markets to a point that caused the ruin of many respectable houses. But in point of fact the whole European stock is not 20,000 barrels less than last year, is not any less, and adding the oil afloat is really greater. The reports, both public and private, for the last six weeks from Europe have stated that their markets are fully supplied, and that this is the general belief among our exporters is shown by the telling evidence that they show no inclination whatever to ship. We have reason to believe that since the middle of September there has not been one single cargo of oil bought and sent forward from the port of Philadelphia by an exporter on his own account.

Worse still, the shippers are selling oil at present figures. The three largest exporters in the United States have been sellers of oil in October, the favorite shipping month of the year. We are also informed in the document referred to that there are only 40,000 barrels Crude oil in Pittsburg and on the creek, and only 50,000 barrels in Cleveland, making the total stock of Crude but 500,000 barrels.

We believe this too low a statement by one-third, but we are alarmed by the statement that follows: "Of this stock of Crude 250,000 barrels is being held for 20 cents a gallon, Pittsburgh delivery." Were we able to pay for so big an elephant we would not like to risk a 'plump bid' of 11 cents for the whole lot. The truth is this oil cannot be sold this year, and will have to be wintered by the present owners. If forced upon the market it would not bring 10 cents. What does all this hue and cry about holding 250,000 barrels of Crude out of the market amount to? We think we can show that if the whole 250,000 barrels were burned to-morrow, Europe would still get more oil this year than she can use. 200,000 barrels refined oil per month can be sent to the seaboard by using only one-half our daily production, in addition to the oil now in hands of refiners, without use of this foaming 250,000 barrels."

This strong document also states that the production has diminished 1,235 bbls, from what it was six weeks ago, when it was 12,235 bbls. per day. The Titusville Herald of October 3 states that the proeuction on the 30th of September was 12,539. Add to this 1,500 bbls. as the daily yield in West Virginia and Kentuckv, and we have a daily production in the United States of of 14,000 bbls. per diem. We believe this to be a safe figure including the production of all the localities mentioned.

But why talk figures? The fact is, Europe is so afraid of being weighed down with large stocks that in Antwerp, Liverpool and London (as well as in the United States) future deliveries are selling for less price than spot oil, and the markets of South Europe are so dull that canned oil is bringing no more than barreled.

Meanwhile the New York speculators for the first time find a place to "unload" at the close of the year, and we are much mistaken if New York does not for the first time close a year with a real profit, while Pittsburgh has her first big loss.

—A Memphis exchange says: The Dan Able residence in Memphis falls to the lucky hands of a barkeeper in Paducah, who officiates on the Tyrone. Well, we are glad to know the river fraterity occasionally receive some of fortune's benisons.

—The Cincinnati Commercial says: Capt. Val. Horton has sold the faithful Emperor to Capt. Wash. Dickerson, formerly of the Minneola and Potomac. The Emperor has recently been repaired at Pomeroy, and was expected here to load for New Orleans. The recent sale may change her destination.

—The City Council of Memphis has appropriated $250 to assist in defraying the expense of removing the docks at Cairo to Memphis. The amount of stock requisite has nearly all been subscribed. Captain John Davis headed the list with $2,000, and the docks will be taken to Memphis by the first of the month.

—Capt. Beasley is said to have bought the stern-wheel steamer Will. S. Hays, which will be placed in the St. Louis and Arkansas trade, in charge of Capt. W. S. Beasley, who was formerly connected with the Princess, in the same trade. The Will. Hays has been laid up a long time at Peoria, on the Illinois, and is still there.

—Colonel Alonzo Bennett, an old pioneer and well known steamboat agent of Cincinnati, died early on Wednesday morning at his residence in Newport, Kentucky. He was, says the Cincinnati Commercial, "widely known among the river and mercantile circles of the Western and Southern trade." The colors of the steamboats at Cincinnati were displayed at half mast in honor of the deceased.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Enquirer: Captain J. H. Porter's new boat, the Economist, built to ply in the Arkansas River, came in from Pittsburgh yesterday. She is claimed to be the lightest boat ever buil, drawing less than eight inches light. The Economist had about 125 tons for this port, and reshipped 40 tons on the Charmer for Louisville. She will load here for the Arkansas River.

—The Memphis Avalanche, of Saturday, says: While the Rubicon was lying at the wharf last night about ten o'clock, a coal oil lamp bursted in the texas. The flames for a few moments made a bright light. The alarm was sounded, but the watchman in the texas, being near at hand, the fire was soon extinguished with a few buckets of water, with little, if any damage to the boat, though Miss Rubicon made a narrow escape of being burned.

—The Louisville Courier, contains the following paragraph: Cairo has refused to pay the assessment of $1,000, to aid the Congressional Excursion, the Council deeming it unwise to appropriate that amount in the present embarrased condition of the city. The Democrat of that city says that Cairo has no need of the proposed improvements, as the largest boats can load there at all seasons of the year. He fails to see that this city would be benefited by the general prosperity that would result from the improvement of the Western rivers.

WE PRINT on the inside pages of this morning's GAZETTE—Second Page: Poetical, Religious Intelligence, and Miscellaneous. Third and Sixth pages: Commercial, Financial and River News. Seventh page: Gail Hamilton—a characteristic sketch by Fanny Fern.

GOLD closed yesterday in New York at 137⅛.

ON OUR SECOND PAGE will be found "Religious Intelligence" and an interesting article on "The Situation in the Petroleum Trade."

LET them bring out their dead! The funeral waits, for, after SEYMOUR and BLAIR are put forever out of political sight, we have to return and bury their successors on the Democratic ticket.

CONGRESS has adjourned till November. The presiding officers met in Washington pursuant to adjournment, but there being no quorum present, and having no other order, adjourned to the 10th proximo.

OUR County Committee, in their recent address of congratulation, invoked such continued exertion for the November trial, as should ensure from Allegheny county a majority large enough for a State. We have already done this, and shall do it again.

THE President is overwhelmed in the tidal waves, and plays quit in politics, conceding GRANT'S election. He has withdrawn his order concerning elections in unreconstructed States, and in spite of BLAIR, awaits the coming of the Great Captain to relieve him from the duties of an office he has so recklessly disgraced.

GETTYSBURG was the turning point of the rebellion. It was left with Pennsylvania to break the back of treason, and on her soil it was broken. History repeats itself. The loyal States watched with prayerful hope the canvass just closed so auspiciously, and anxiously awaited the action of our State in again dealing with rebels and traitors. Gettysburg was no more brilliant or inspir to the loyal heart than the victory obtained on Tuesday.

IF SEYMOUR and BLAIR are to be withdrawn from the canvass, the Democrats should fall into the ranks of the Republican phalanx, make no other nominations, and elevate GRANT and COLFAX to the offices they are destined to occupy, by the unanimous vote of the people. The election of our candidates will in any event be almost unanimous, and the repentant rebels might as well bring up the rear, and if gaining no credit, escape the disgrace of another disastrous defeat.

IT IS reported that Mr. SEYMOUR'S withdrawal has been placed in the hands of the Democratic Committee, subject to their discretion. If Mr. BLAIR, with confiding generosity, imitates this example, the Committee could accept either or both, as they should think fit. Their exact decision might easily be anticipated. There is little difficulty in perceiving that no action of a Committee can restore life to a party which has hopelessly destroyed itself. Let us patiently await Mr. BLAIR'S withdrawal!

WE retain the names of Messers. MYERS and COVODE in our lists of Congressmen elect from this State, while fully aware that the "official" counts of yesterday appear to defeat both by small majorities. These "official counts" are yet to undergo a revision which will expose the frauds upon which they are based and will correct them accordingly. It is also probable that the same revision and purgation of the polls will restore to Mr. TAYLOR the Vth District of which yesterday's count deprives him.

IT WAS consistent with Mr. PENDLETON'S conceptions of political fairness and veracity, to express frequently his disbelief that the Supreme Court, in any extant opinion, had ever denied the right of Congress to confer upon a State its own sovereign rights of taxation. Since Tuesday's election, he has had leisure to examine the Reports and, in 3rd Wallace pp. 573 to 603, in the case of VAN ALLEN vs. the Assessors, he finds an opinion, delivered by Justice NELSON, in which occurs the following:

"It is said that Congress possesses no power to confer upon a State authority to be exercised which has been exclusively delegated to that body by the Constitution, and, consequently, that it cannot confer upon a State the sovereign right of taxation; nor is a State competent to receive a grant of any such power from Congress. We agree to this."

This settles the question and settles Mr. PENDLETON also.

A DEMOCRATIC DEATH-SPASM.

Reflecting citizens will readily perceive that no proposition to reconstruct the Democratic Presidential ticket can receive any general sanction from that party, at this hour. Viewed in the light of the facts, it is a piece of transparent deception, attempted by the New York politicians, with whom it is a dernier resort for the salvation of their State ticket, now likely to be engulphed in the same rain which has hopelessly swallowed up the National Democracy. This local interest finds itself to some extent re-inforced by a Conservative but exceedingly slender wing of the party, which has thus far supported, as it will to the last support, the present nominations with reluctance. The movement is also engineered by such special friends of Mr. SEYMOUR, as have never heartily accepted his associate upon the ticket, who have given frequent and unmistakeable proofs of their repugnance to BLAIR'S too positively aggressive positions, and who now flatter themselves in the delusive hope that the withdrawal of the one objectionable candidate may be accomplished without sacrificing the other, who more justly represents the negative, non-committal, time-serving policy of that class of politicians. In short, this "movement," professedly for a complete change of the ticket, is nothing but a protest from Mr. SEYMOUR'S friends against FRANK BLAIR, and is chiefly projected to save the New York State ticket, at the expense of the party in all other sections of the Union. This is made evident by the recent expressions of the World, Mr. SEYMOUR'S peculiar organ, which followed up a conspicuously printed editorial of Thursday, in which the "adverse influences" resulting from BLAIR'S position were set forth artfully and at much length, with more open declarations, the next day, in which "the undignified letter of General BLAIR to Mr. BRODHEAD" was attacked in "plain talk," and with a clearly intimated demand for his withdrawal from the ticket.

That the World and its clique of local partisans are actuated in this matter by purely local and selfish considerations, and that they are willing to sacrifice the National party to save, if possible, Democratic supremacy in New York, is apparent enough when we remember that the journal in question has repeatedly expressed its approval of that letter, defending it and the regular Democratic platform of principles as mutually cor-relative, and as embodying, whether jointly or severally, the only true Democratic doctrine, pure and simple, upon the question of Southern reconstruction.

It is equally apparent that these New York politicians cannot fail to be sensible that their movement, to disavow the authority of the Convention which selected both candidates and officially enunciated those principles, puts finally the seal to the already-written death warrant of the National Democratic party. It is clear, then, that they accept the National situation as hopeless, and that they regard the local prospect as so nearly hopeless that it only remains for them to abandon the scuttled and sinking ship, in the most serviceable boat which will hold their small faction, and give them some small prospect of saving themselves.

All this sort of thing is practically an idle and useless folly. Mr. SEYMOUR'S voluntary withdrawal would be absolutely an act of final suicide, and he knows it. No attempt to shake off BLAIR can hope to succeed with a man of his well-known temper and obstinate tenacity. It is not in one of that name and family to be bullied by denunciation, to be driven by any unauthorized force, or to be cajoled into committing a political hari-kari, with his eyes open. Neither Mr. BLAIR nor his peculiar friends are ever likely to consent to an act which blots him out forever from all political recognition. Least of all, are they likely to consent to such a thing when, as now, they see how utterly puerile and absurdly futile would be any change, partial or total, in the ticket, for not only the candidates must be changed, but the same innovating hands must go on and knock out the brains of the official platform of the party. How absurd is really that sublimity of Democratic impudence which now assails the "undignified letter" to BRODHEAD, as fatal to all hopes of Democratic success, when it is the most conspicuous fact in the public records of that party that this letter ensured the subsequent nomination, and that both were inextricably ingrained, by the operatives of the Convention, and with master-hands, into the substance and body of the platform and principles, and made vitally an element in the blood and brains of American Democracy in 1868. The man who proposed to "trample laws and Constitution into the dust" under the armed and brutal heels of a "President at the head of his army" was himself chosen as a candidate for that express purpose, and officially endorsed by a platform which proclaims nullification in its literal text, spurning public, solemn and valid statutes of a competent law-making power as "usurpations, unconstitutional, null and void." Certainly, the assurance which would now, at this eleventh hour, disown this, the deliberate and formal enunciation of Democracy by its regularly authorized exponents, can only be matched by the audacity of its insult to the party as a National organization, or by the depth of aristocratic contempt in which its engineers must hold the intelligence of the American people.

The New York Convention adopted its candidates and proclaimed the principles of the party, precisely as both were presented to the people, not because of any weak and truckling timidity with which the less positive, flexible politicians of the SEYMOUR school yielded to the bold, dashing, aggressive, stern demands of men more violent in their prejudices, pronounced in their opinions, or resolute in their purposes. They nominated FRANK BLAIR, violent, bad man as he is, and they sanctioned that official promulgation of wickedly revolutionary doctrine, not so much because demanded by the gray-backed audacity of Southern traitors who would accept no refusal, but because the man and the principles were, and had been for years, and are now, the faithful expression of a corrupted and utterly prostituted, depraved and disloyal spirit of partizanship. The Southern wish was gratified because it met its own exact echo heartily responded from a kindred spirit in the hearts of such men as CLYMER, WOODWARD, VALLANDIGHAM, and every other prominent Northern leader of the party. So much the more childish is it, therefore, for these demoralized politicians to begin prating now about the failure of BLAIR and his avowed opinions to represent Democracy faithfully. He is, in fact, their best and most exactly faithful representative today—and they all know it.

No considerations purely of principle ever embarrass that class of men. They look only to success, and are utterly indifferent to the nature of its means. They would change their ticket and disavow their platform before noon to-day, if they could discern therein the faintest improvement of their chances. But badly as they expect to be beaten next month, they are too shrewd not to perceive that the proposed movement now is equivalent to a disbandment of the National organization in advance and forever. They have no difficulty in understanding that, cover their cat with meal as cunningly as they may, the people will recognize the same party, and that no contrivance of this kind can yield to them an iota of profit. With nothing to gain by it, and everything to lose, it is most improbable that the Democracy of the Union can lend its national approval to the proposition.

To Union men, the situation is gratefully replete with satisfaction. They realize now how utterly the opposition is demoralized by the terrible blow dealt to them last Tuesday. They behold with unalloyed satisfaction how the programme of revolution, anarchy and intestine war has recoiled upon its inventors, not only to plague them, but to rend them into fragments. They regard with a still nobler pride the cheerful and unanimous loyalty with which the great party of Law, of Peace, of Liberty and of the Constitution marches steadily onward, keeping step to the music of the Union, and already crowning the ramparts of the Republic with the old and ever victorious flag.

THE CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS.

The twenty-four districts of Pennsylvania have chosen Representatives as follows:

1.	Samuel J. Randall,	13.	Ulysses Mercur,
2.	Charles O'Neill,	14.	John R. Packer,
3.	Leonard Myers,	15.	K. J. Hallenman,

Democrats in Italic.

Vacancies in the present Congress, for the IXth and XXth Districts, have also been filled by the election therefor of DICKEY and PETTIS, both Union men.

The Ohio delegation of nineteen stands at present sixteen Republicans to three Democrats. For the next Congress, we gained on Tuesday one district and lost four, the 1st, 9th, 10th, and 13th, a net loss of three members.

In Indiana, the opposition carry the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 6th Districts only, leaving the new delegation to stand seven to four, a Republican loss of one member. That intense rebel, VOORHEES, is counted in for the 6th District, now represented by COBURN, (Republican) but it is understood that the claim will be contested and easily defeated after a fair investigation of the frauds by which alone it is supported.

At the worst, we have lost five Representatives, which cannot impair our two-thirds majority in the House. By way of an offset, also, we gain two United States Senators, from Pennsylvania and Indiana.

ANOTHER "UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER."

The rebel commander of Fort Donelson, General BUCKNER, is now the editor of the Louisville Courier, which he has conducted with marked ability in the same political interest. But the elections of Tuesday seemed to remind him of his experience at Fort Donelson, and he again surrendrs unconditionally to the Union forces, in the annexed paragraph from the Courier of Wednesday morning:

THE RESULT.—The returns came in slowly last night, and although at the hour we write this (2½ A. M.) they still lag, yet sufficient have been received to indicate the defeat of the Democrats in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana. They have made a brave and determined fight and have gained a few members of Congress though not to the extent anticipated, and, although the majorities against them are not large, yet it is useless to attempt to conceal the fact that the verdict of yesterday virtually decides the Presidential election. Our people must make up their minds to the fact that Grant will be the next President. We earnestly hope that the apprehensions now so generally entertained of the evil that will follow this result will not be realized, but that a new era of peace, quiet, and prosperity may dawn on the country.

NEXT comes West Virginia, to vote on Thursday of next week. Her last important election was in '66, when the Union majority was 6,644, on a total vote of about 41,000. In May '67, they ratified an amendment to the Constitution, disfranchising certain classes of the rebels, by a majority of 7,217. The next election is to be for a full State and Legislative ticket, and the Union nominees will be elected, unless the loyal vote be overcome by the domestic violence and imported frauds of the rebel Democracy. Of the open propositions to this end, the subjoined paragraph from the Parkersburg Times will convey to our readers a tolerably correct idea

In the lower counties bordering on Kentucky, and doubtless old Virginia also, preparations have been going on among the Rebels of those counties which have a preponderance of the Rebel element to get the assistance of the neighboring Rebels of Kentucky, to destroy the Registers and to force the votes of both West Virginia and Kentucky Reb ls into the ballot boxes of those counties. For this purpose an extensive colonization of Kentuckians has already been arranged.

But the Union men of that State know what they have to contend with, and are fighting so bravely for the supremacy of their own laws, that our confidence in their triumph is still unimpaired.

THE ELECTION.

Address of the State Central Committee.

ROOMS OF THE UNION REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE, PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14, 1868.

Republicans of Pennsylvania:

Yesterday you achieved a triumph at the polls scarcely less important in its results than the victory of arms on the field of Gettysburg. The integrity of the Union and the perpetuity of the Republic we secured by the one, its permanent peace and future glory are insured by the other.

Your verdict thus pronounced will be recorded by the American people in November next, in a most emphatic condemnation of the party false to the country in the hour of its peril, false to liberty and the rights of man. Every lover of peace and good order congratulates you on your achievements in stripping such an organization of all power to inflict injury on the country. Henceforth it must sink under the same obloquy that rests upon the Tories of the Revolution and the Federalists of the war of 1812. Entrusted with power, it wielded it for the dismemberment of the Republic. Confided in by its devotees as the guardian of liberty, it exerted all its energies for the perpetuity of human bondage. Professing reverence for free speech and freedom of the press, it silenced both with bowie-knife and revolver wherever it had supreme control. Assuming to be the guardian of the rights of man, it became the champion of human bondage, and stood sentinel with baying blood-hounds to seize and return the fleeing fugitive; and at last, dissatisfied with the result of a fair election, it raised its hand against the life of the Republic, and, Samson-like, would have buried itself in the ruins of the grandest temple of liberty ever reared by human hands.

It is befitting that a party scarred by such a record should die at the hands of the people whose sense of justice it has outraged, and whose dearest rights it has trampled in the dust.

Republicans of the Keystone! Your brethren throughout the Union have watched the struggle through which you have just passed with intense interest, and its result gladdens every patriotic heart. Let not your victory dampen your ardor or relax your energy, but march on with closed ranks and solid columns to complete your victory in November.

GALUSHA A. GROW,
Chairman of Republican State Committee.

BEATEN ON THEIR OWN FIGURES.

The latest Presidential estimate made by the New York World and other rebel journals, prior to the elections of last Tuesday, was as follows:

Not a word of comment is needed.

KEEP PUSHING THINGS!

In the expiring hour of the great Democratic rebellion, GRANT'S order to SHERIDAN was very brief, but comprehensive, and General PHIL "pushed things" accordingly. So the Republicans of four States met the demand for a second rebellion, on Tuesday last. "Push things!" was the watch-word, and the work was gloriously done. Now, and for the coming three weeks, the motto must be "Keep Pushing," and not an effort should be relaxed until the last rebel friend of SEYMOUR and BLAIR has found another Appomattox in the November ballot-boxes.

NO LONGER THE SAME PARTY.—Democrats! Remember that Democracy to-day don't mean what it did when Andrew Jackson was a Democrat, but what John C. Calhoun wanted to make it, and what his followers have made it—a cloak to cover up their wicked designs on liberty, law and order; a shield for traitors, thieves, robbers and liars; a party of deception and fraud, opposed to liberty, equality and justice; the advocates of slavery, rebellion and plunder; the apologists for treason and traitors; haters of the Union, the Constitution, and every man who volunteered to defend them.

BLAIR AS A KNOW NOTHING.—The Philadelphia Press says: In 1855 Frank P. Blair, in company with Kenneth Raynor, of North Carolina, visited Philadelphia for the purpose of organizing in that city a lodge of the third or highest degree of Know Nothingism. No one among us at that time had risen to such eminence as to qualify him for this work, and Mr. Blair, as a kind of missionary bishop, was dispatched to establish the degree in Pennsylvania.

A SLIGHT COLD, COUGH,

Or SORE THROAT may be checked if a reliable remedy is applied at once, but if neglected very soon preys upon the lungs, and the result may prove fatal. The past few weeks of changeable temperature and cold rains are fruitful sources of troubles of the lungs, throat and chest. If you are attacked by a cold, no matter how slight, use at once

DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP,

Which is an old and well tried remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, and all Affections of the Pulmonary Organs.

DR SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP

Is entirely free from any deleterious ingredient, and can be given with perfect safety to the youngest child.

DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP

Gives sure and almost immediate relief to hoarseness and that annoying sensation, tickling, in the throat. If you would obtain a reliable remedy, be sure and call for

DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP.

If your Druggist does not keep it, ask him to get it for you.

COUNSEL FOR THE CARELESS.

The body is a machine, and carelessness in its management is as sure to lead to evil results as careless ness in the management of a steam engine. Yet the last thing that most people think of is the protection of this delicate piece of the Creator's handwork from the subtle causes of disease by which it is surrounded. It is no easy thing to repair the system when in ruins; but there is no difficulty in fortifying it against many of the dangers to which it is exposed. Guard against nervous debility. As the first symptom of this fore-runner of more serious ailments, sustain the flagging energies of nature with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Take it regularly and persistently, until bodily vigor is thoroughly restored. It creates an appetite, promotes—or, it might, as properly be said compels—the complete digestion of the food, regulates the secretive action of the liver, tones and invigorates the bowels, improves the condition of the blood, and gives firmness to the nerves. Upon a system thus strengthened and regulated all the impurities of the blood, the fogs and exhalations of autumn, pregnant with the elements of intermittent fever can make little or no impression. Whoever supposes that fever and ague is an unavoidable evil in certain districts, at this season of the year, is egregiously mistaken. As effectually as a draught of cold air is shut out by the closing of a door, this genial tonic and alterative, all disorders of a miasmatic type, may be prevented by the use of the BITTERS. When sickness can be avoided by a means so safe and simple, is it not the merest fatuity to neglect the proffered antidote? Regarded either as a preventive or a cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, intermittent fever, nervous disorders, general debility, or constipation of the bowels, this pure vegetable preparation stands alone.

DISEASED LUNGS.

There is no doubt whatever that diseases of the lungs, or ulcers of whatever sort, on any of the inner organs may be and are frequently cured, and a complete condition of health established. If the elaborative functions, of which the stomach is the primary and most important one, are restored to a condition to do their repairing of the human system, ulcers or sores, whether upon the lungs the liver, the kidneys or the bowels, or upon the legs, as is frequently the case, can be made to heal, and a complete standard of health re-established.

We have frequently seen these results from the use of Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, a pleasant and agreeable medicine, which will ripen up and carry out the animal economy all effete and used up material. DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE is enriched by some of the most valuable plants and herbs known to be useful and curative for all deteriorated states of the human blood, and whilst it adds to its plasma, at the same time stimulates, gently but effectively, the skin, the kidneys, the liver and the glandular system to sufficient action to enable the body to take on healthful action and eradicate the disease. The sick and afflicted should bear in mind the virtues of this great medicine, and if those who are sufficient value to the importance of health, will resort to it in the beginning of a cough or cold, there would be no falling into declines and rapid consumption so hopelessly incurable, and so most surely fatal. Let any one afflicted with any pulmonary disease try but one bottle, and they will be convinced of the value of Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure. Sold by the gross, dozen or single bottle at Dr KEYSER'S Medicine Store, 130 Wood St.

AN AUTOGRAPH LETTER FROM

GEORGE D. PRENTICE, Esq.,

Editor of the "Louisville Journal."

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 5th, 1866.

DR. LIGHTHILL—DEAR SIR: I am very sorry to learn that you contemplate leaving Louisville at the end of the present week. I earnestly wish that your engagement elsewhere might permit you to remain here for a longer time.

Your sojourn among us, Dr. Lighthill, will be long remembered by our people. It has been a blessing to many. You have treated me and a female member of my family with great success. You seem to me to understand, as by intuition, the character of a malady and its best remedy. You have a multitude of patients in this city, and I have not seen or heard of one to whom you held out the promise of relief without rendering it. Your entire practice among us has been a brilliant success, and I cheerfully recommend you to my friends and the public at large as a physician deserving the utmost confidence.

Hoping that you may live long to be a blessing to additional thousands of the afflicted, I am, very truly, yours, GEORGE D. PRENTICE.

TESTIMONIAL FROM THE

REV. JOHN NOTT, D. D.,

Professor in Union College, Schenectady.

SCHENECTADY, January 17th, 1866.

DR. LIGHTHILL—SIR: Having been cured by you of a discharge in an ear, which has been very offensive of late, and, far back as I can remember, always more or less so, and having been entirely restored to hearing since under your care, I feel that I cannot withhold this acknowledgment from any use it may be to others, especially as I have applied in vain to my family physician and other physicians of reputation. Yours truly,

JOHN NOTT.

LETTER FROM

C. C. WAITE, Esq.,

CHICAGO, November 6th, 1868.

DR. LIGHTHILL—DEAR SIR: I wish to express to you the appreciation of your skill as a practitioner, particularly in the relief afforded many afflicted with Catarrh; I, myself, having received permanent benefit from your treatment. Congratulating the afflicted in the West of an opportunity to avail themselves of your invaluable services, and wishing you much success, I am, yours very truly,

C. C. WAITE.

BURNETT HOUSE February 9th, 1867.

TO MY FRIENDS AND THE PUBLIC:

It affords me great satisfaction to be able to testify to the success of Dr. Lighthill in the treatment of deafness, and express my sense of obligation to him. My hearing has been impaired for a number of years, at times to such an extent as to embarrass me seriously. Dr. Lighthill, under whose care I placed myself, has removed the difficulty completely, and restored me to perfect hearing.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FOR SALE.

A FARM OF 30 ACRES, on the line of the Connellsville Railroad, 27 miles from the city, in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa. The Improvements are a fine two-story brick house, with ten large rooms and hall. A large frame bank barn, with No. 1 stabling, and all other outbuildings in complete order. One of the best of orchards, of all kinds of fruit. The soil is rich new bottom. This property adjoins the village of Buena Vista, and has the advantage of churches, schools, mills, stores, &c., and will be sold at the low price of $15,000. The improvements alone are worth at least all that is asked for the property, to say nothing about the land, which is worth for garden purposes at least $10,000. For full particulars call at my office, or WILLIAM A. BELL, Esq., on the premises.

ALSO, A FARM OF 40 ACRES, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Connellsville Railroad, about 18 miles from the city. The improvements are a new stone dwelling, with eight rooms; a good barn and other outbuildings. This property is offered at a very low price. Call and secure yourself a good bargain.

ALSO A FARM OF 120 ACRES, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., 17½ miles from the city, on the Connellsville Railroad, opposite Elrod's Station, within 20 minutes' walk of the Station. The improvements are a frame house containing four rooms and kitchen, with a good cellar underneath; very good barn and other outbuildings. A No. 1 orchard, containing about 200 fruit bearing trees, all in good condition. 90 acres cleared land, the residue in good timber, underlaid with 23 acres of coal.

ALSO, A TWO-STORY BRICK HOUSE adjoining the Borough of Elizabeth, Allegheny county, Pa., containing 4 rooms and kitchen. Lot 60 feet front by 126 back to an alley. A good stable, wash house, bake-oven and other outbuildings. I am authorized to sell it at the low price of $1,800, on good terms.

ALSO, In the Borough of Elizabeth, a good two-story BRICK HOUSE, containing 4 rooms. Lot 120 feet square. Will be sold at the exceedingly low price of $2,500, on easy terms.

ALSO, My Farm, known by the name of "Willow Banks," situated on the Connellsville Railroad, 17 miles from the city, containing 79 ACRES, all in good condition. The improvements are a No. 1 brick house, two stories high, newly painted, containing six rooms, two halls running full length of the house. The house is situated on a beautiful knoll, surrounded by fruit trees, shrubbery, vines and flowers, with a graded avenue running to the Youghiogheny River. Also, a large frame bank barn, smoke house, wash house, coal house, bake-oven and other outbuildings, and a never-failing well of water. Two large orchards, containing from six to seven hundred fruit trees, nearly all of good bearing condition. This farm abounds in small fruits, viz: Currants, raspberries, gooseberries, and a fine large strawberry patch, which, in connexion with the richness of the soil and nearness to the city, makes it very desirable for gardening purposes. Very convenient to schools, churches, stores and blacksmith shop.

ALSO, A FARM OF 158 ACRES, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., 31 miles from the city of Pittsburgh, on the Connellsville Railroad, at Suter Station. The improvements are a common log house, a good frame barn, with stabling for ten horses; a corn crib and wagon shed; good orchard of fruit trees; fencing very good. 120 acres cleared, the residue in heavy timber land. This farm is valuable—first, for its excellent soil; secondly, its timber; and thirdly, it contains more limestone than any other farm in Pennsylvania, all accessible. The largest vein of limestone is 40 feet thick; several other veins ranging from 3 to 6 ft. in thickness, lie under the whole farm. For particulars enquire of ELI SUTER, Esq., at Suter Station, or at my office.

ALSO, 174 ACRES, situated in St. Clair township, Westmoreland county, Pa., near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Houston Station. The improvements are a two-story frame house, with six rooms and good cellar, a frame bank barn 40 by 60 feet, and other outbuildings. There is on the place a young apple and peach orchard one hundred and twenty acres cleared land, divided into fields of convenient size, a large portion of which is well set in clover and timothy; the residue of said tract covered with good timber. It is well watered, and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm.

ALSO, A beautifully situated tract of 60 ACRES of valuable land, under good fencing, situated in McCandless township, Allegheny county, Pa., on a township road, 7 measured miles from the Market House, Allegheny City. This tract is well adapted for a garden or dairy farm, being convenient and of easy access to either city, and near enough to the line of the Mahoning Railroad to make it very desirable for country seats, for persons doing business in the city.

ALSO, The best farm in Young township, Indiana county, Pa., 4 miles from Western Penna. R. R. at Livermore Station, containing 300 ACRES—225 acres cleared and under No. 1 fencing, as well as fine farming condition; the balance in good white oak timber. The improvements are 2 two-story frame houses, nearly new, of eight rooms each and finished basements and attics; a large bank barn 50 by 80 feet, a two-story spring house and other necessary outbuildings, all in good order; 5 acres of orchard of choice varieties of fruits; 4 feet vein of coal (now open,) underlying the whole tract, and limestone in abundance, with plenty of springs of never-failing water. Taken all together houses, fencing, soil, nice lying surface, public schools, churches, schools, mills, &c.,—I know of no more inviting and desirable tract of land in Western Pennsylvania.

ALSO, FARM AND MILLS. A small tract of 60 ACRES of very valuable land in Derry township, Westmoreland county, Pa., well fenced and in a high state of cultivation, with new frame dwelling, and other outbuildings; a new grist and saw mill complete, with two run of burrs, two bolting cloths, and all the needed fixtures, in good order, and a young orchard of choice fruits; race is all underlaid with a six foot vein of coal, now opened and worked, at the back of the mill, and limestone in abundance. Call soon and secure a good bargain.

ALSO, FARM OF 160 ACRES, situated immediately upon the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Blairsville Intersection, 54 miles east of the city. The improvements are a two-story stone house of 8 rooms, a bank barn 45 by 65 feet, the best of stabling and other outbuildings. The land lies well, is well fenced, is in good farming order, and will be sold very cheap if applied for soon.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, October 16, 1868.

Gold remained very strong to-day at from 137⅝ to 137⅞, having once touched 137¼. The immense short interest uncovered by speculators and importers makes gold so scarce that the bull party can charge nearly anything they see fit, and ¼ per cent. per day has been charged for the loan of gold. Some people are very sanguine about the gold premium, and expect it to reach 125; but the large foreign balance, if not covered by shipments of bonds, may cause a temporary shipment of coin during the first few days of November.

Bonds are high, and have advanced 2 per cent. within two days. The demand for investment has increased, and large lots have been bought in anticipation of a large demand from European investers, as well as from capitalists. It seems, however, that prices have reached near the highest point for the present, even should an advance take place in November.

In stocks there has been a strong upward movement, and any purchases made to-day brought in a handsome return by the next day, the sharp seven per cent. money market however will soon compel operators on small margins to sell out, and a decline is almost inevitable. If it had not been for the low interest on money secured for a longer period by large houses, the market would have had encountered a decline; it will, and must come, and if for no other reason than an increased activity in business here, but especially for money the produce of the South and West.

We predict an early decline of stock, and of bonds likewise, with the lower range of the good premium.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz: Gold, 137⅝; United States 1881s, 115¾; Five Twenties, 1862, 114¼ do '64s, 112; do '65s, 112; do new, 110⅝ do; '67s, 110 do '68s, 111; Ten-Forties, 105⅞ Silver, 130⅝; Ohio & Mississippi Certificates, 31¾; Western Union Telegraph, 37¼; New York Central, 28⅝; Erie, 48⅝; Reading, 98; Michigan Southern, 90⅞; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 91; Chicago & Rock Island, 109¼; Northern Western 92⅜; do Preferred, 92⅝; Fort Wayne & Chicago, 116½; Merchants Union Express, 23¼; Adams, 51; Pacific Mail, 28¾; Quicksilver, 23¾.

—The Chicago Tribune of Thursday says: The Local Money market remains nearly in the same condition as yesterday. There is yet a strong demand for money, which is working close, and though there was a larger amount of Eastern Exchange on the market than for some days past we learn that a large portion of it was made on purchases of grain that were made last week, and there is not any increase of shipments yet. A change is, however, now being predicted in the movement of grain from this city to the Eastward. There are now in round figures a million and a half bushels of wheat in store here, and the receipts having for a week or more past been largely in excess of shipments, must crowd larger shipments out soon.

PITTSBURGH METAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, October 16, 1868.

The metal market, compared with last week, has undergone but litle change. There is a steady demand reported, and with light stocks, comparatively speaking, prices are pretty well sustained. We were quoted the following sales:

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, October 16, 1868.

As the excitement in regard to the recent elections is subsiding, more attention is now given to business, and there seems to be a better feeling than there was previous to election day. The demand for some articles is increasing, though as a general thing it is still restricted mainly to supplying immediate wants; so far as prices are concerned, however, there are no important changes.

APPLE BUTTER—Is dull and under the influence of increased receipts, prices are lower; we now quote at 75 to 80.

APPLES—In good supply and dull, but unchanged; regular sales at $2 to $2,50 per bbl, for common to choice.

CHESTNUTS—Have still further declined, and cannot fairly be quoted above $6 per bushel.

CRANBERRIES—Quiet and unchanged, at $15 to $16 per bbl for prime cultivated.

BUTTER—The supply continues to be largely in excess of the demand, and prices are drooping; we were quoted sales of choice Roll to-day at 35c, and medium do at 30 to 32c.

EGGS—Quoted at 23c for fresh packed, though some dealers report at 25c.

CHEESE—Is quiet but steady with regular sales at 17 to 20c, as to quality.

POTATOES—Peach Blows and Neshannochs 85 to 90 cents per bushel. Baltimore Sweets $4,50 to $5 per bbl, and prime fresh receipts Jerseys, $5,25 to $5,50.

HAY—Sales at Allegheny Diamond Scales of 80 loads at $26 to $37 per ton, as to quality; also, 4 loads Straw at $20.

SEEDS—Flax Seed is in steady demand, at $2,50. Tmothy Seed is dull and nominal at $3 to $3,25. No established price for Clover and but little in market.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is unchanged at 13¼c for Shoulders; 16 to 18c for Ribbed and Clear Sides, and 20 to 20½c for Sugar Cured Hams. Prime kettle rendered Lard, 20 to 20½c. Mess Pork, $30,50 to $31.

LARD OIL—Is firm but unchanged at $1,25 for No. 2, and $1,50 for No. 1.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet and unchanged—No. 1 Spring, $1,75, and No. 1 Winter, $2. Corn is dull and drooping; we heard of an offer to sell at $1,14, free on board, without finding a buyer; small sales at $1,15 to $1,16. Rye is in better demand, and may be quoted firm at $1,45 to $1,50. Oats firmer and higher; sales two car loads reported at 67c—small sales at 69 to 70c. Barley is in active demand and higher; prime Spring is now quoted strong at $2,25, and Fall at 8 to 10c higher. The crop, it would appear, in this section of the country is light, and the great proportion of the arrivals come direct from Chicago. We are cognizant of one firm alone (brewers) that bought over 50,000 bushels in that market.

FLOUR—The market is devoid of any new features worthy of special notice; the demand is only fair, being confined mainly to supplying immediate wants. Spring Wheat brands may be quoted at $8,50 to $9,25, for medium to choice. The mills continue to quote Extra Family at $10,30 in bbls, and $10, in sacks; Double Extra at $10,80, in bbls, and $10,50 in sacks. Rye Flour, $8,50.

WHISKY—Is firm and in fair demand but unchanged; sales Rectified at $1,25 and Highwines, $1,35.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, October 16, 1868.

CRUDE.

The Crude market was a shade firmer ta-day, in symphy with an improvement in Refined, and holders generally were asking 12c, against 11¾c yesterday. There were sales of two lots of 1,000 each for October at 12c, and last evening there was a sale of 2,000 bbls for same delivery at 11¾c. November and December, seller's option, is nominal at 11¾c; the last sales reported—on Thursday—being at that figure.

REFINED.

The market for Refined was considerably firmer to-day, and prices have advanced materially, especially for immediate deliveries. Sales 500 bbls last half October at 29½c; 500 do at 29¾c; 500 do at 29¾c; 500 do at 30c; 500, spot, at 28¾c; 1,000 at 28¾c, and 500 each November to July at 29½c. Yesterday there was a sale of 500 each November to June at 29c. Quite a number of the sales reported during the past day or two have been "settlements," the contracts conceded and differences paid. Our refiners claim that at present prices of Crude and Refined, they can buy the latter article to a much better advantage than they can make it. As already hoted, however, the market was much better to-day, and it was reported that eastern men were buying; which, particularly at this stage of the game, indicates a better and stronger feeling.

New York Dry Goods Market.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, October 16.—Trade continues inert generally, and the market is a little weak for certain styles of cotton goods. Sprague & Dunnel's prints are reduced to 12½c, and Augusta yard wide brown sheetings to 14c. Other classes of goods are without important change, except Osnaburgs, which are scarce and wanted at enhanced prices. The Phoenix have advanced from 16c to 17½c. The Milledgeville sell readily at 20c, Howard, 21c, and Alburton 22½c for thirty-three inch. Broadway sheetings are selling at 12½c, Cabat A at 14½c, and Cohasset's and Atlantic at 16c. Stripes are hardly so firm; American sell at 14a15c, Thorndike & Whittendon A at 20c, and Marrabeasic at 21a22c. Blue Hill delains are firmer, and bring 15c; Pepperel corset jeans, 15½c; Laconia brown canton flannels reduced to 19c.

St. Louis Cattle Market.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

ST. LOUIS, October 16.—The live stock market to-day did a very fair business in Cattle, mostly in small lots; prices ranging at 3a6¼c gross. Sheep steady; inferior and common brought $1a3; fair and choice, $3,50 a5 per head.

GAIL HAMILTON.

"The eminent Woman of the age," a recent publication contains the following characteristic sketch of Gail Hamilton, written by Mrs. Parton:

"Will I write a sketch of Gail Hamilton?" Will I touch off a Parrot gun? I though, and will it "kick" if I do? However, I ventured to send the following missive:

My Dear Miss Dodge, otherwise Gail Hamilton: A book is in prospect. Many of our well-known literary people are to write for it. Its title is to be "Eminent Women of the Age." You and I are to be in it. I am do you. Who is to serve me up, the gods only know. Will you be good enough to inform me at your earliest convenience, when and where you cut your first tooth, whether you had the measels before the mumps, or the mumps before the measels; also, any other interesting items about yourself.

"Writing about you will be a labor of love with me; for although a stranger to you save through your writings, I rejoice every day in your existence."

"Please send an early answer.

"Yours, etc.,

"FANNY FERN."

In a few days I received the following reply:

My Dear Mrs. Fern: The coolness of New Yorkers is astonishing. You are about to burn me at the stake, and will I have the goodness to send on shavings and dry wood by the next mail?

"Thank you, ma'am, I will.

"LIFE AND SUFFERINGS OF
GAIL HAMILTON.

"Written by Itself. And with Former Translations Diligently Compared and Revised.

"To the best of my knowledge and belief, I was born in the 'New York Independent,' some time during the latter half of the present century, and before the 'Independent' had been annexed to the domains of Theodore, King of Abyssinia, against whom the great powers have just advanced an expedition. Simultaneously, or thereabouts, I was also born in the 'National Era.' So I must be twins. On that ground it has never been satisfactorily settled whether I am myself or Mrs. Simpson, of Washington. If I am Mrs. Simpson, I am the wife of an officer, who, to his infinite regret, was not killed in the late unpleasantness, and am a lineal descendant of that Simple Simon, who once went a fishing for to catch a whale, though all the water that he had was in his mother's pail. If I am not Launcelot, nor mother, but only my own self, I am like Melchesedeck, without father, without mother, without descent, and my enemies fear, also, I have no end of life. On one point commentators are agreed, that I am an 'Eminent Woman' of my time, and therefore have no part nor lot in your book. In fact I am

"Neither man nor woman,
I am neither brute nor human,
I'm a ghoul!

"And all that I ask is to be let alone. From the Independent I graduated into the Congregationalist, of blessed memory; and from the Era I paddled over into the Atlantic. I flourish in immortal vigor on the cover of Our Young Folks, and at sundry times, and in divers other manners and places, have, I fear, contributed to the deterioration of our youth. I sadly confess, also, that I am guilty of as many books as Mrs. Rogers had small children; but being written in love, and in the spirit of meekness, they are held in high esteem, especially of men. Whereunto I also add, like St. Paul, that which cometh upon me daily, the care of all the churches.

"Such, unhappy fellow-sufferers, is my thrilling story. If any one shall add unto these things, let him tremble lest I imprecate upon him all the plagues of the Apocalypse; and if any person shall dare saddle any other man or woman with the sins which I alone have perpetrated, I say prophetically to such saddler, Lord Angus, thou hast—

"Thanking you for your kindly words, and rejoicing, like King David in his great strait, that I am not to fall in the hands of man, I am, very respectfully,

"GAIL HAMILTON."

"Respectfully, that is, if you respect my rights: but I shall have a life-long quarrel even with you, if you spread before the public anything which I myself have not given to the public. I have really very strong opinions on that point; and, notwithstanding its commonness, I consider no crime more radically heinous than the violation of privacy. You must have suffered from it too severely yourself to be surprised at any abhorrence of it on my part. I most heartily wish you could find it in your plan to leave me out in the cold. Of course, if you judge from my writings that I am a woman, you can say what you please about that woman, that writer, and I have neither the wish nor the right to say nay. So much of the woman as appears in an author's writings is public property by her own free will. All the rest belongs to her reserved rights. I pray you to speak, if speak you must, so wisely as to make this clear. Launch thunderbolts, or sing songs, as you see fit; but read the preface of my first book, 'Country Living and Country Thinking,' and govern yourself accordingly; and I shall be, without any condition, and positively the last time. Yours, very truly,

"GAIL HAMILTON."

To a request to publish the foregoing letter Fanny received this answer:

"Dear Fanny: Do whatever you like with the letter. I don't care, and don't think you 'must handle me tenderly.' Say anything and everything you like; storm or shine within your 'sphere.' You don't like threats; strange—but I will give you one more. If you do write a paper on me, and do not put in any of these impertinences which are so common in newspapers, but confine yourself to that which is common and lawful plunder, I shall not only put you a notch higher than the general run of people, but I shall keep a select corner for you in my private regard and gratitude, where you can come and take a nap by yourself, any time."

After this, by way of preface, Fanny proceeds cautiously in her designs upon—

This lady at whose mention stalwart men have been known to tremble, and hide in corners; who "keeps a private graveyard" for the burial of those whom she has mercilessly slain; who respects neither the spectacles of the judge, nor the surplice of the priest; who holds the mirror up to men's failings till they hate their wives merely because they belong to her sex; this lady who blushes not to own that she is "a Ghoul," who lately impaled the Rev. Dr. Todd on the point of her lance and left him writhing without so much as pouring a drop of oil on his wounds.

* * * * * *

And now you will naturally say to me: This is all very well, but tell us something about her personally. Where does she live and how? Is she single or wedded? Is she tall or short? Plain or pretty? Has she made money as well as made mouths? In short let us have a little gossip. That's what we are after.

Don't I know it? I should think I had been laid on the gridiron times enough myself to understand your appetite. Well—here goes. "Gail Hamilton's" real name is Mary Abigail Dodge. Her birth-place is Hamilton, Massachusetts. She is unmarried, a Calvinist, and an authoress from choice. Her father was a farmer. Her mother produced Gail Hamilton; that is sufficient as far as she is concereed. She had a brother, who Mrs. Grundy declares is the "Halicarnassus" mentioned in her books, and whom the men she has flagellated in her writings call "poor devil," supposing him to be her husband!

She was brought up as New England girls are generally brought up in the country—simply, healthfully, purely; with plenty of fences for gymnastics; with plenty of berries, and birds, and flowers, and mosses, and clover-blossoms, and fruit, in the sweet odorous summers; with plenty of romping companions, not subjects for early tombstones and obituary notices, but with broad chests, sun-kissed faces, and nimble limbs and tongues—children who behaved naturally for their age; who twitched away books and balls from their owners, and pouted, and sometimes struck, and often got mad, and strutted when then wore fine clothes, and told lies—"real whoppers"—and took the biggest half of the apple, and were generally aggravating, as exuberant, healthy childhood always is.

Then little Mary had other companions less aggressive in the birds, the bees and the grasshoppers. She went Maying, too, on May mornings, as every true born New England child should, as I myself have done, whether the sky were blue or black; whether she shivered or was warm in a white gown; whether the May-flowers were in blossom for May-day wreaths, or the snow-flakes were coming down instead. She had chickens, too, and, when they first came she fed them with soaked and sweetened cracker; later, she made fricasses of them and omelets of their eggs. She had three cats; one, named Molly, after herself; another, a hideous, saffron-colored, forlorn little wretch, that was abaudoned by an Irish family, and which she felicitously baptized Rory O'More. This cat one day crept into the oven. Mary, ignorant of the fact, shut the door, wishing to retain the heat. Hearing a stifled "mew," she opened it, and out flew the cat and plunged through the house and into the nearest snow bank, from whence she emerged, with true Irish elasticity, right end up and as good as new. The third cat little Mary housed was a perfect savage; her mistress never being able to catch sight of her save in her fierce and lightning-like transit through the house. These cats fought each other, scratched, and made the fur fly, stole chickens, and gave that zest and excitement to her childish days which might well astonish our city imprisoned urchins—shut up with a cross French nurse, to keep their silk dresses clean, in a nursery, from whose windows the only view is a dead brick wall.

Then she rode to mill in an old wagon, with mammoth wheels, painted green outside and drab within, with a moveable seat, on which was placed a buffalo robe for a cushion. After little Mary had taken her seat, the wagon was backed up to the gate, the "tailboard" let down end huge bags of tow-cloth filled with shelled corn were placed in to be ground, then transformed into Johnny cakes, brown bread and Indian pudding. As they were put beside her, this imaginative little girl fancied that they might resemble those of Joseph's brethren, mentioned in the Bible, which were carried down into Egypt, with plenty of room in every sack's mouth for a silver cup and corn-money.

When all these bags were safely deposited in the mill, and little Mary and the old horse started for home, who happier than she? The rough gates, which opened to let them through, seemed to open on golden hinges. Her quick eye noted the branches of feathery fern, the panting cows, standing knee-deep in the cool water, and even the stagnant pool which she knew would by and by blossom forth with pure white lilies; while the yellow blossoms of the barberry hedge would ripen to crimson clusters in the crisp days of the coming autumn; this barberry bush, aronnd which she joined hands with her little romping companions, and sang:

As we go round the barberry bush,
The barberry, ba-berry, barberry bush,
As we go round the barberry bush,
So early in the morning.
This is the way we wash our clothes,
We wash, we wash, we wash our clothes,
This is the way we wash our clothes,
So early in the morning.

Then Mary and her companions would imitate the washing of clothes and the ironing, and woe to her who should first lose breath in doing it.

Then there were the lovely New England country Sundays, heralded by the song of birds, and odors of blossoms, and creeping away of mist from valley and mountain, as the warm sun gladdened every living thing. Every New Englander knows what that is without farther preface.

Sundays to little Mary under these conditions were not prisons or chains. They were best clothes, with a pleasant, clovery smell in them when they were taken out of the drawer to be worn. Sunday was baked beans, and a big, red Bible, with the tower of Babel in it full of little bells, and a lovely walk two miles through a lane full of sweetness and bird-singing; over the bars, through another meadow, through the woods, over the ridge by Black Pond, over a fence, across a railroad, over another fence, through a pasture, through the long woods, thraugh another gate, out upon the high road at last.

Then, as our little girl was no diseased, embryo saint, during the long service which she could not understand, she looked at the people and fine bonnets around her, and never was she willing to stay at home, be the service ever so long. Then she went to Sunday School, where the children on coming out used to say, "I think your ribbon is prettier than mine."

"Is your veil like Susy's?" "Why don't you wear your blue dress to meeting?" "Do you know Joe got fourteen perch yesterday?" And she read the library books and ate gingerbread in the interim, and then came the afternoon service, and then the long, pleasant ride home, and then the catechism in the evening, and the unfailing big red Bible.

To-day, Gail Hamilton is not only independent in thought and expression, but, I am happy to say, in pocket! She is also a living, breathing, brilliant refutation of the absurd notion that a woman with brains must necessarily be ignorant of, or disdain, the everyday domestic virtues. When she writes of house-keeping and kindred matters, she knows what she is talking about. All the New England virtues of thrift, executiveness, thoroughness—in short faculty—are exemplified in her daily practice. Well may there be sunshine inside her house, well may the flowers in her garden bloom, and the fruits ripen, skillfully tended by such fingers!

One piece of advice before I close I will volunteer to the male sex who "desire to keep clear of a woman like that." Let them consider it a heaven-sent impulse, as several rash gentlemen, who, to my personal knowledge, disregard it, have it with base ingratitude towards the name of her species, who fully indorsed their seraphic qualities, not only upon personal acquaintance with her forgiven her for smiting them on one cheek, but voluntarily and lovingly turned the other.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Rooms of the Christian Association, No. 23 Fifth street.

Cleaning.—Ninth street, which needed it badly enough, is being scraped and relieved of its extra coat of filth.

Evening School.—The Eleventh (old Seventh) Ward Public Evening School will open on Monday, Oct. 19, at 6 o'clock P. M.

The Weekly Gazette for this day can be obtained at our counter, ready for mailing. It has full election returns, and contains much valuable reading matter.

Important Arrest.—Officers Moon and Irwin arrested a suspicious character last evening, who is supposed to be a notorious thief for whom they have been searching. We are not at liberty to divulge the particulars at present.

Threatened Him.—James Wallace alleges that John Blank threatened him with violence, which he fears will be carried into effect. Alderman Taylor issued a warrant for the arrest of James on an information for surety of the peace.

Information Wanted.—Should this meet they eye of James and Michael Garrin, late of County Clare, Ireland, they will confer a favor on their sister Anna by writing to her, care of Dr. Wm A. Ahl, Pittsburgh. Exchanges will do a kind act by noticing the above.

A Mischievous Bird.—Margaret Francis alleges that John Bird stole three dollars from her. They met at a house on Eleventh street and Margaret relates that the money was then in her possession. When she came out it was gone; and from his actions she suspects Bird of picking her pockets. Alderman Thomas issued a warrant and the officer caught the Bird on the wing and caged him.

Assault and Battery.—Annie Trainor made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters against James Ross for assault and battery. The parties are employed at Rinehart's Tobacco Manufactory, on Wood street. Annie alleges that during a discussion between them yesterday the ungallant James lost the argument and his temper, which caused him to strike her a blow in the mouth. A warrant was issued.

Alleged Larceny.—Bridget Flannigan made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters against Mrs. Maguire for larceny. Bridget states that she had removed some of her household furniture from a dwelling adjoining that of Mrs. Maguire, and left the articles on the pavement, while she started off in quest of a wagon to haul them away. Upon her return she discovered that they had been stolen. She therefore charges Mrs. Maguire with the theft. The parties reside in the Fifth ward, and the articles were valued at seven dollars. A warrant was issued.

Comforts in Winter.

It used to be remarked that straw for a poor man's bed and blankets for the rich were winter's comforts, but that day has passed away. At the extensive auction house emporium of H. B. Smithson & Co., 55 and 57 Fifth street, it is shown that the very best quality of white and brown blankets are within the reach of the poorest, being sold at such marvellously low prices. The stock is remarkably fine, and no person should fail to call and examine it and make inquiry as to prices. Complete assortments of shawls, balmoral skirts, undershirts, drawers, cloths, cassimeres, doeskins, meltons, satinets and jeans will also be found in large variety and at auction prices.

The Staff of Life.

Who does not appreciate good bread, and what necessary of life is it more desirable to have good? Such of our readers as take their supplies from Hugh Ward, Palo Alto street, Allegheny, eat bread in its purity, and have reason to congratulate themselves. Mr. Ward's bread is really fine; it almost coaxes one to eat, and agrees surprisingly with one's digestion. Mr. Ward supplies most of our public institutions, and a great part of the cities and county. Mr. Ward's bread is the best and most agreeable we know of; healthy, substantial and unadulterated. It costs no more than other bread. Housekeepers, just try it, and read Mr. Ward's card elsewhere.
